Staff Present: Darlene Alessi, Director

Public Present: Orazio Financial Services - Paul V. Orazio, Louis D. Orazio, II

In absence of Secretary Karen Bash-Romaner, President Craig H. Long appointed James J. Galvin Secretary Pro Tem.

President Craig H. Long:
The President changed the order of the agenda and turned the meeting over to Paul V. Orazio and Louis D. Orazio II of Orazio Financial Services to present the Library’s 2023 annual investment performance.

Paul V. Orazio noted that as of last year, the estimated annual income for the Library’s portfolio was $67,272. By the end of 2023, that figure rose to $108,101, as a result of the investment of the money and higher interest rates. This reflects a significant growth of revenue for the portfolio over the year. There is a significant amount of money about $1,200,000, that is in money markets earning 4.6% with complete liquidity.

Louis D. Orazio gave a detailed outline of the performance of each sub-portfolio, noting a significant growth in the account’s income despite challenges from Fed rate hikes and global conflicts. Louis noted that since Orazio Financial Services started managing the money for the Library, the account has grown by $438,424.

A discussion arose regarding taking income from the accounts for capital expenditures in the upcoming year.

However, Paul V. Orazio noted that over the next 12 to 15 months, if money needs to be withdrawn for the HVAC replacement, the funds are available. Due to the large withdrawal, it will result in an imbalance in the portfolio that will not be in compliance with the Library’s Investment Policy Statement (IPS). Either assets will need to be realigned to assure that the remaining money in the portfolio is allocated according to the Library’s IPS.
In conclusion, Paul V. Orazio expressed cautious optimism about the economy, confident that each sub-portfolio will continue to accomplish its individual objectives and the importance of staying in front of potential market fluctuations.

President Craig H. Long expressed gratitude to Paul V. Orazio and Louis D. Orazio II for their professional management of Library funds. The Orazios left the meeting at approximately 8 p.m.
